

Program: Boondock

About

Boondock is a website written in pure javascript that allows users to share, store and organize their links

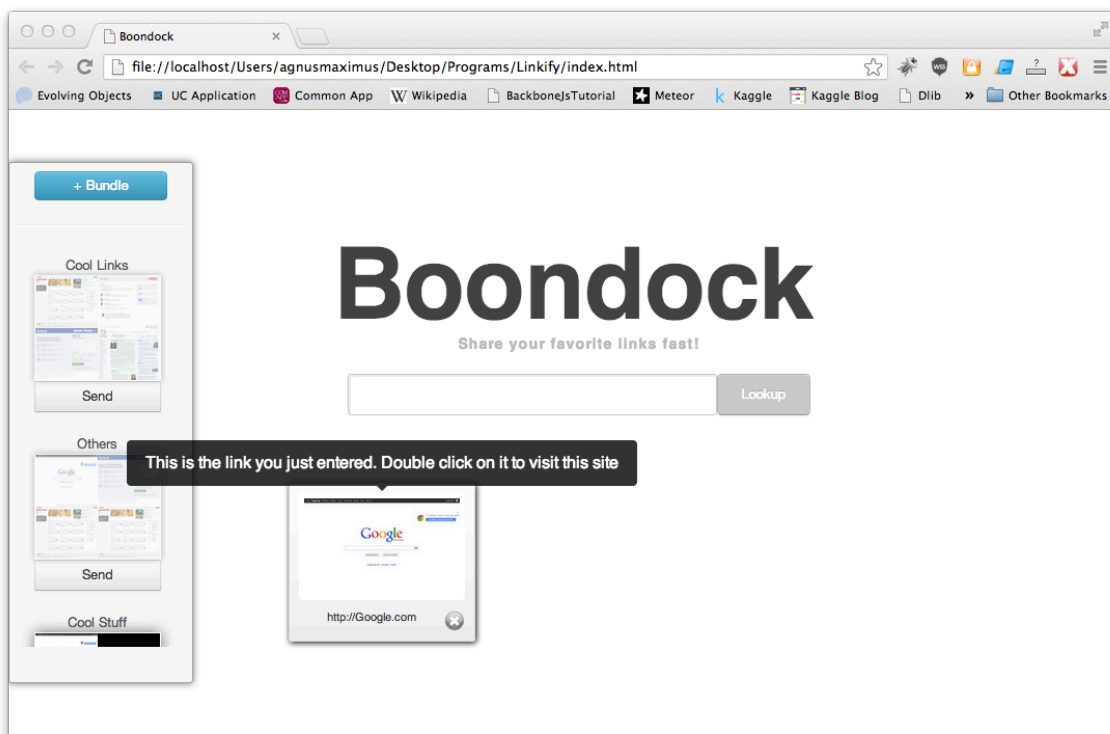

To Run

Since the site is written in pure javascript, double clicking the “index.html” file should work.

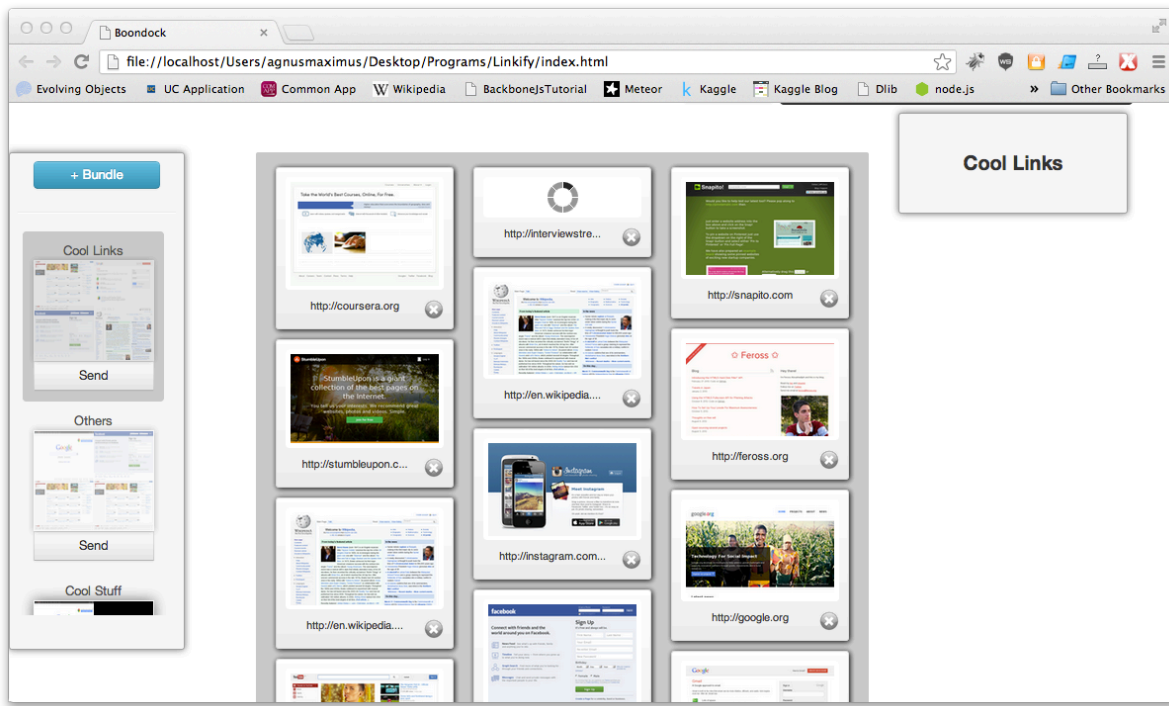

How it works

Written in javascript, this site relies heavily upon jquery to provide flexible user interaction. To provide snapshots of the websites that links refer to, the site uses the Snapito API, which provides pictures of the site that a link references.

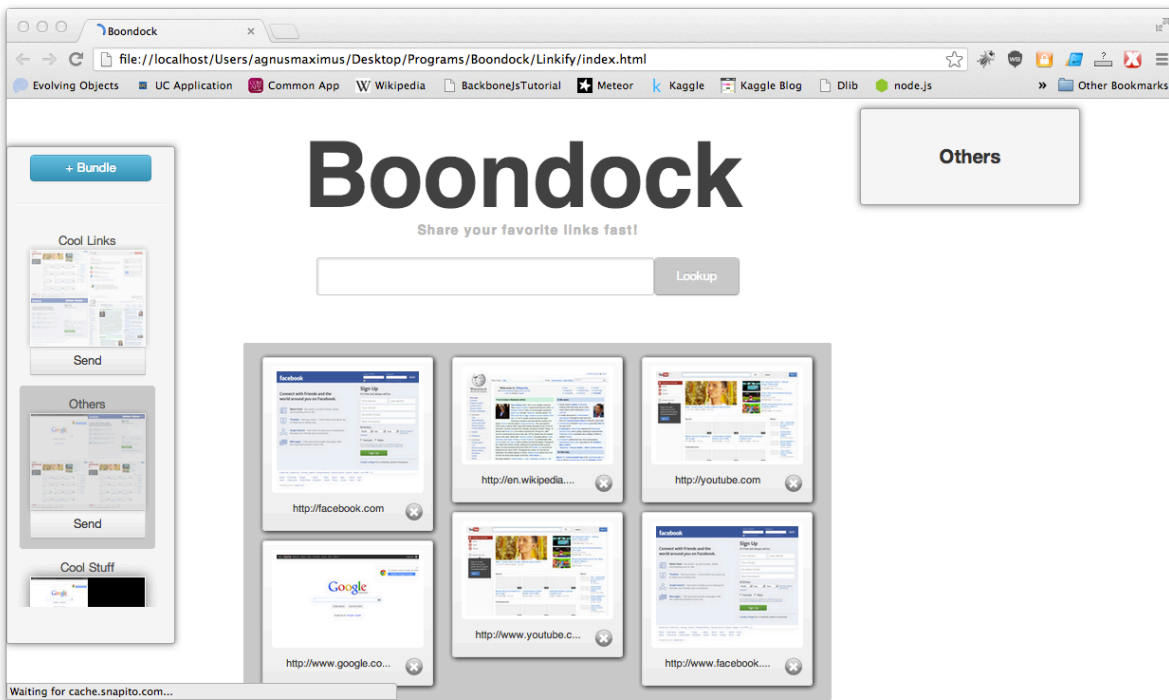

Screen Shots

Front Page

Lots of links in the “Cool Links” category

More Links